The reception tendered Rev. William H. Michaels and his bride on Friday night by the members and friends of the Methodist Episcopal church was a very enjoyable affair, a large number being present to extend their congratulations and well wishes. A number of Rev. Michael's friends from Yardley, where he was formerly stationed and also a few friends from Newtown were in attendance also. Palms and a profusion of dahlias in their warm rich colors, transformed the large church parlor into a room of great cheeriness and beauty and imparted a subtle charm to the occasion. A musical programme was rendered and the selection finding special favor was an original song by Mrs. Wilmer S. Black of welcome to Rev. and Mrs. Michaels, sung to the air of "Maryland, My Maryland," from which State both of them came. The song was sung with much expression and appreciation by the Wesleyan Brotherhood.

The programme included: Piano duet, Lohengrin's Wedding March, The Misses Mary and Jennie Arbogast; "Love Song," violin and piano duet, Irving Heritage and Edith H. Black; vocal trio, Jehovah, Mrs. Flora VanArtsdalen, The Misses Lillie and Anna Hackett; violin and piano duet, "Melody," Irving Heritage and Edith H. Black; chorus, "Welcome", air, Maryland, My Maryland, by Wesleyan Brotherhood; piano duet, The Misses Arbogast; address of welcome, Henry B. Thomas, president of board of trustees. Following Mr. Thomas' cordial welcome a large bouquet of pink roses was presented by Rev. Maris Graves to Mrs. Michaels in behalf of the church, the presentation and response by Mrs. Michaels and the Rev. Michaels was most impressive.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake followed at the close of this most enjoyable social evening.

Give the Kidneys Help and Many Bristol People Will Be Happier.

"Throw Out the Life Line"—
The kidneys need help.
They're overworked—can't get the poison filtered out of the blood.
They're getting worse every minute.
Will you help them?
Doan's Kidney Pills have brought thousands of kidney sufferers back from the verge of despair.

William A. Michener, 528 Swain St., Bristol, Pa., says: "It affords me great pleasure to confirm the public statement I gave (two years ago, recommending Doan's Kidney Pills. Nothing has happened during the time that has since passed to alter my high opinion of this preparation. My two children were afflicted with the most annoying kidney weakness and steadily grew worse. They had no control over the kidney secretions and this proved that the kidneys were weak. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills, I decided to try them and procured a box at Erthal's Pharmacy. Their use brought relief in a remarkably short time and before long my children were restored to good health. I am grateful to Doan's Kidney Pills for their good work in these two cases."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

LETTER FROM DOYLESTOWN

Teachers, Attending the Institute, Chief Attraction at the County Seat This Week.

Doylestown, November 1.

The institute here is now in full swing and as an old veteran said "the schoolmarms grow prettier and brighter every year, Bucks county has no occasion to be anything but proud of her institute and able superintendent," and indeed Superintendent Hoffman deserves the credit that is given him. His popularity with the whole bunch, children, teachers and school directors shows that. As day lecturers this year he has Dr. Elmer E. Bryan, President of Colgate University, who is very popular here and Lt. Thomas W. Bellet, of New York University, an able man and one much sought after by institutes. His course this year is good and is receiving very liberal patronage.

Of course the girls observe Hallowe'en and as the county seat belongs to them this week they certainly had a good time, especially a few from the city by the sea who were experts on inventing new stunts for the other girls to try. But few of them dodge the day lectures and the interest this year seems greater than ever. All over the county there seems to be a musical awakening and the volume of melody that rolls out of the court house stops business in the row offices for a few minutes whenever they sing. Professor Thomas L. Gibson, of Baltimore, is their accomplished instructor and he finds music in all of them and brings it out. There is a much larger attendance this year than ever before and the hotels and boarding houses are filled to their utmost capacity for many of the teachers have friends with them and sleeping three in a bed is voted lots of fun just so they have good "eats" and they all brought their appetites with them. But the whole county seat loves them and is glad to see them come and sorry to see them leave.

The Doylestown A. C. and Lambertville football teams played each other to a stand still on Saturday afternoon at Lambertville. Neither side was able to score, although both teams were close to the goal line at different times. In the latter part of the fourth quarter, the Doylestown A. C. carried the ball from the centre of the field to the one yard line on long end runs, but time was called before the ball could be pushed over. The timekeeper cut two minutes off of this period and when he blew the whistle, most of the Lambertville team left the field. The game should have been forfeited to Doylestown, but the referee refused to do this.

Neis, the former Villa Nova Prep. star, played his first game with Doylestown, and was a tower of strength to the line, and his tackling was hard and sure. Barr also put up a good game at guard. Doylestown made big gains on the forward pass and end runs.

Next Saturday afternoon the two teams will play at Doylestown, and a good game can be expected. Doylestown won a game from Lambertville early in the season by the score of 8-0.

The county seat usually gets whatever there is unique in the way of hobbies whether male or female. A woman named Alice Walsh, who claims to hail from Springtown, N. J., was arrested last week by Officer Farley after a great number of residents had complained of her. The woman is about thirty-five years old and for three weeks or more has been canvassing the county seat with the plea that she was a respectable woman and had just arrived on the Easton trolley, penniless. All she wanted was twenty-five cents to take her to Philadelphia, where she had friends. In nearly every house she obtained the requisite quarter gathering in six or seven dollars a day until she was caught and her scheme exposed, she unfortunately went to the same house a second time. No one knows where she spent her nights as she was never seen on the streets. She was escorted to the trolley with the warning that it was a year in jail for her if she ever came back.

Mrs. Conrad Elf has left at the museum a hand forged kitchen knife brought from Germany 70 years ago, an old china meat plate over one hundred years old and a white sugar bowl equally as antique.

Mrs. Simon V. Fenton has deposited a pewter tea pot which is at least 135 years old, which was the property of Abraham Huzlett, of Hatboro, who was a soldier in the Revolutionary War and was the grandfather of the donor and Mrs. Frederic Goodnow, of Yardley.

The failure of town council to appoint the two extra police officers, especially for this week when there is danger of houses being robbed because of the absence of the members of the household at teachers' institute, is causing considerable comment more especially as it is alleged that Grundy has directed that no appointments be made until after election and that the thirty-five or forty are warned that none but Grundy men will be considered and in the meantime the first story man is having the time of his life.

Hulmeville Brotherhood Organized.

At a men's meeting held in Hibbs' Hall, Hulmeville, on Monday evening there was present about seventy men interested in the organization of a Brotherhood which would promote the welfare of the men of Hulmeville and vicinity. Previous to the business part of the meeting a banquet was given to those present. After the inner man had been satisfied by the many good things from the tables, the chairman, Rev. H. J. Hoffman, called the meeting to order and stated in a very pleasing manner why the meeting had been called and the object of same. Cards of application for membership had been distributed among the audience to be signed by those wishing to become members of this organization and 47 of them were returned signed. Rev. E. W. Rushton, pastor of Bristol M. E. church, gave a delightful talk upon man's value to his own town from a dollars and cents view. Vance Wiggins, of Philadelphia, rendered two solos accompanied by Elvin Smith on the piano. The next business of the evening was the election of officers, the following persons were elected: President, Samuel J. Illick; secretary, Howard Vansant; treasurer, Edwin Henry; 1st vice president, Jesse C. Everitt; 2nd vice president, Jesse G. Webster; 3rd vice president, Dr. R. Randolph Paxson; 4th vice president, Charles Haefner. Meetings will be held the fourth Monday evening of each month. The next meeting will be held in the town hall on the fourth Monday evening of November. The president will in the meantime appoint a committee to draft by-laws and decide about the dues. Each vice president will have charge of a special line of work.

The first of the series of entertainments for the benefit of the Newtown Fire Company was given by the Jennette Kling Company last Thursday evening. The next one will be on November 16th, when Bill Bone, author and entertainer, will be the attraction.

Monday evening, Miss Lavinia Eyre entertained about fifty young people with a Hallowe'en frolic, the affair was so enjoyable that it was decided to organize into a "Social" for the winter months, when at each gathering, every two weeks, there will be part of the evening devoted to pleasure and the other part to considering some philanthropic issue of the day.

MAP PRINTED TO PREJUDICE VOTERS

Doylestown, November 1.

The Doylestown Intelligencer, the Grundy organ here at the county seat in an issue last week, in bold headlines, declared that two-thirds of the county will be unrepresented at the Democratic candidates for County Commissioners are elected, and it publishes a map of the county with figures to prove its assertion. We wonder how many voters will be fooled by such a ridiculous statement. In the first place there are two candidates running upon the Grundy ticket, and one of these lives in the Lower End. The law says that one of these must be elected, and if our Republican friends think that the Lower End should be represented they no doubt will elect Mr. Davis, the Lower End candidate. As all of the other candidates, including the Grundy candidate, reside in the Upper End, Mr. Davis is the only one who can be elected from the Lower End. We presume that the Grundy organ speaks the words of its owner when it assumes that Mr. Davis will not represent his section of county. It is a bold assertion for even Grundy's newspaper to charge that their candidates will not represent the part of the county, if elected, and is an acknowledgement that a Grundy candidate must serve his master first.

A SUPPOSITION.

But suppose that the Grundy ticket should win. One lives in Durham, within two miles of the County line, and the other in Bensalem, within a few miles of Philadelphia. All the county would then be practically unrepresented, if representation depended upon locality. But in these days when commissioners are paid their traveling expenses, the matter of location cuts little figure, and the interests of the county would not suffer if all of the candidates elected were from the Upper End. Indeed the service would be much better than could be expected from the present Grundy ticket.

AN INSULT TO THE UPPER END.

The organ shows its willfully dishonesty in the map published. If it desired to illustrate its point fairly why did it not draw a straight line across the Upper End of the county? The whole article is an insult to the people of the Upper End of the county. Why have not they the right to have two commissioners as well as the Lower End? There is bound to be two in the Upper End, no matter who is elected; then why this fling at the Upper End" If we mistake not, that article will be effectively resented.

The Grundy organ did not dare to say that it was the people who nominated both Democratic candidates. But in framing a boss-made ticket it was easy to pick one from each end of the county. Had the Republican party been free to name its ticket, Hollenback and Brooks would have been nominated, but they did not suit the Grundy-Minster-Penrose-Bean combination.

A CHEAP TRICK.

The Grundy article is a cheap political trick, designed to throw dust into the eyes of the voters of the Lower End. Democrats in this latter section will not be thus trapped into voting for the Grundy ticket, and as for the Upper End voters, they are sure of two candidates anyway. The whole article is an insult to the Pennsylvania German districts of the county.

THE COUNTY CAMPAIGN

The political campaign in Bucks county which has been waged with vigor for several weeks, since the primary elections practically ends tomorrow

The contest which has been a clean one is a fight between the Republican organization on the one side and the Keystone and Democratic parties on the other, the latter organizations having combined in a fusion campaign.

From reports received at Keystone and Democratic headquarters from all parts of the county, the indications are that the contest will be a remarkable close one with good prospects for success of the fusion nominees

Not for several years have the opponents of the Republican organization felt so encouraged as in this campaign The Keystone Democratic candidates are live and hustling and they declare they receive splendid encouragement wherever they go and they feel confident of election

The Keystone movement in this county is organized among the independent Republicans as a protest against the dictatorship of one man power in county affairs It is a movement among men who believe that the time has come to wreck the system which permits one individual to arbitrarily determine who shall and who shall not serve in public capacities

The Keystone party is in the fight for the purpose of administering a service to the system that gathers the money of all the tax payers with one hand and spends it with the other In a direction that will do the Republican organization the most good

To carry out the purpose of defeating this strongly entrenched political organization, men of the highest type have enlisted as candidates on the Keystone and Democratic tickets They are all men of splendid ability, good judgment and fine characters

Benjamin Shearer candidate for county treasurer, is a successful business man, of Dublin, near Doylestown

He is president of the Dublin Mutual Live Stock Insurance and Protective Company president of the Doylestown and Dublin Turnpike Road Company director of the White Hall Mutual Fire Insurance Association, director of the Chalfont Windand Storm Insurance Company (one of the largest concerns of the kind in the State), and a member of the Board of Directors of the Bucks County Trust Company

William Selner, candidate for Sheriff, is one of the best known men in Southampton township A man of fine character and respected by all who know him

Captain Timothy Cadwallader is an old soldier and independent Republican and his business as conveyancer and long experience in the routine of court work with which he comes in contact in the execution of his business affairs especially qualifies him to become an efficient Clerk of the Quarter Sessions

William B Knight of Langhorne, is a man who has farmed all his life but to three years ago and is a hard working, conscientious man who will perform the duties of Register of Wills with ability and fidelity

Dr J N Richards veteran medical practitioner, known to almost everybody in the lower end of the county needs no eulogy from us To know him is to believe in him As Coroner he will be an ideal official The position is one that the law should require to be held by a physician

Leidy S. Gruver for Recorder; Allan J Smith for Clerk of Orphans Court, Isaiah C Barndt and Edwin Gerhart, for Commissioners, and William M Vandegrift and Zeno Weirbach, for Directors of the Poor are all men who bear the very best of reputations, as do Harry Moon and Harvey S. Holcomb for Auditors

If these men are elected they will serve the county honestly economically, and capably

It is now up to the voters

VOTE ON WATER PROPOSITION.

On the ballots at the election in Bristol next Tuesday will be a referendum for the voters to indicate their choice, "yes or no," on the proposition to amend a borough ordinance increasing the indebtedness in the sum of $100,000 so as to permit of the purchase of the plant of the [illegible] Bedminster at the Key for POLITICAL DRIFT.

The Republican county ticket seems to be composed largely of that class of candidates known as "job holders" Dr Cawley, of Spring town the Democratic candidate for Register of Wills is postmaster of that town Arthur Shaw the candidate for Recorder is postmaster at Upper Bucks Eddy and is also State health inspector Howard White candidate for Coroner, has held that office for two terms and now wants another opportunity to serve the people Messrs John W Vosler and Henry B Detwiler, are the present Directors of the Poor and each are candidates for re election And then there is William F Kelly, candidate for Clerk of Quarter Sessions One can hardly think of the court house and not at the same time have a mental vision of "Billy Kelly" He has been holding down various positions in the court offices for the past fifteen years

A rousing political meeting was held last Thursday evening, under the auspices of the Solebury Democratic Executive Committee at Solebury village and judging from the large attendance which packed the hall and the enthusiasm displayed that section is thoroughly awake to the importance of the coming election Addresses were made by County Chairman Long, Harry I Grim, Esq, the silver tongued orator of Bucks Captain Timothy Cadwallader and others Mr Grim made a stirring address in which he referred to the extravagance and large expense in running the county and taxes increasing continually, while the work in the offices has fallen off in proportion as the expenses increased Mr Grim maintained that the offices in the Doylestown Court House were simply being used by the Grundy machine as soft places for their friends, men, who are likely to continue in their berths as officials or deputies as long as Grundy runs the county An interesting feature of the meeting was a speech by Captain Cadwallader Democratic-Keystone nominee for Clerk of Quarter sessions of Wrightstown township who was very cordially received Captain Cadwallader said that in matter how we classed ourselves politically the time has come for every honest man of whatever party to arise himself and put the good news to the meeting that the Keystone movement was spreading in the Republican party and instead of the 1,000 votes which it was estimated early in the campaign would be polled he believed it would be nearly or go to 2,000

County Chairman Wrenn Long was called upon for a speech and his remarks awakened much enthusiasm Mr Long talked along the line of the work necessary in the campaign and spoke very encouragingly of the outlook stating that indications pointed to the fact that the Democratic vote would be out better than usual because of the unusual interest manifested in the local tickets He also said that the people of the county were enthused over the Democratic county ticket because of the excellent men of which it was composed

ISAIAH C BARNDT
Keystone Democratic Candidate for County Commissioner

Isaiah C Brandt, Keystone and Democratic candidate for County Commissioner has been a member of the Board for over three years His record is such that he can confidently appeal to the voters for support He is a son of the late Daniel and Elizabeth Cressman Barndt of Hilltown township and was born on December 22 1863 His ancestors were stanch Pennsylvania Germans On account of that township for generations in the past having been residents of Perkasie and he has been closely identified with the rapid and forward movement of that progressive town Prior to his being elected County Commissioner he held the offices of Assessor School Director of two terms Chief Burgess of Perkasie Town Council for five years and Treasurer of the Perkasie Electric Light Co In these connections with all of which he was prominently identified he made many friends with promptness and despatch as his duty

THE LONG TIME SUBSCRIPTIONS

It takes much more 'moral [illegible] to secure a long term subscription than it does a short term and [illegible] minute and figure how [illegible] that it pays a candidate [illegible] rather take a year's receipt book [illegible] than one five year subscription [illegible] you 1,000 votes on the latter [illegible] one not counting the [illegible] increase and the bonus [illegible] can earn this week by getting [illegible] largest amount of money [illegible] of these long term subscriptions would help you make up [illegible] on time for the small [illegible] will be turned There's plenty of [illegible] in the water Just explain [illegible] and you'll find many people [illegible] by 3 4 or 5 years as one [illegible] will or you ask them for them [illegible] option

THE BIG HUSTLE THIS WEEK

This is the week of the big hustle All the contestants are out working for subscriptions They realize that the winning of one big premium [illegible] means much towards a [illegible] on November 25th

Some days will prove more productive than others but one may never know how much is to be gained by [illegible] constant on the job as it were ever ready to speak the word that will some way result in a subscription that will credit her with several thousand votes Take it all in all the lady who tries, who enlists the friends to the best advantage stands in the best position to come out the winner, despite the fact that she may be an unknown quantity to [illegible] district at this time And the leaders what of them? Can they retain their present position? Time alone will tell Out after the long time subscripts

After Saturday, November 11th all [illegible] having less than 100 000 votes published to their credit in the Gazette will be dropped from the published score Their record will then be kept on file and they can be reinstated at any time

Candidates having votes in reserve will please forward as many as will be necessary to bring their score up to 100,000

APL YOU READY

All aboard for the South Does not that ery bring up visions of the moment when you take your seat in the Pullman and the train starts on the trip provided by The Gazette?

At that moment all that you have worked and planned for will be a reality and you will have begun a tour that will bring you manifold returns for all the time and energy you expend in winning it

The open sesame that will throw wide the doors of success is just—energy—determined and undismayed It is energy that will push your standing far ahead and lack of energy that will cause you to slip back

There are opportunities now that will be gone later Perhaps some candidates from another district are planning right now to write letters into your territory asking support from those you are depending on but have neglected seeing

The real interest the active candidates and their friends are taking in the race is becoming apparent

There is no doubt that some of those who are making good progress were just as skeptical of success as are many who still hesitate to enter Generally the candidates who deliberate well on their chances of winning before enrolling are the ones who are victorious in the end

A feeling of timidity and hesitation often goes before great achievement Emma Lanes, the noted prima donna has said that often before a public appearance in which she scored her greatest success she was tempted by an overwhelming desire to run away Most certainly there is no sense in acknowledging yourself defeated before you begin Many will say Oh, I would just hate to enter and then not win But how are you to tell you will not win What reason is there for you to believe that you would not be among the fortunate ones"

Being skeptical of success in any venture where you know effort will bring success in many cases the incentive to greater effort and the consequent accomplishment of what you start out to do Timidity however is responsible for failure

The prizes are most generous and it would really be a great pity if you were to lose them through a little timidity or sense of false pride Write the Contest Manager and give him an opportunity to have a personal talk with you

A number of young ladies have expressed themselves as being desirous of winning but presume their chances are not very promising To foolishly entertain such conclusions is a great mistake No young woman is able to judge her capabilities until she has applied herself By so doing she may surprise her friends and incidentally herself by the large vote she may possibly realize in this race for one of the prizes

Why not try in earnest?

VOTES GOOD UNTIL LAST DAY

The votes issued on subscriptions are good until the last day of the contest and may be withheld until that time if so desired or you may poll them at any time during the contest

The vote ballots on each subscription are issued to you as the subscriptions are brought in and are given you Therefore you do not have to hold back your subscriptions in order to hold back your votes You can take the votes issued on subscriptions home with you and hold them in reserve until such time as you want them to appear in the paper They must however be sent in to the contest department before they can be counted and published

Candidates who are In to Win should make the most of the splendid vote offer which ends next Saturday at 9 p m

To the River Delaware.

O how calm tonight is thy current wide
As with noiseless movement it seaward slips,
And the leaf that drops on thy tranquil tide
Floats as safely there as the steel-ribbed ships.

From beyond thy streams comes the chimes of bells,
And on high the planets their course keep.
Not a breath of wind stirs thy bordering dells
And the mirrored stars in thy bosom sleep.

Art thou dreaming then of the wondrous past,
Of ages gone since thy life began?
Or fairest thou? In their splendor vast
But as days to thee in the life of man?

Where the mist hangs low o'er the eastern ridge
Thou hast seen the dawn of a million suns,
And the moon has bathed her silver bridge
For a thousand years where thy channel runs.

Is it aught to thee that the rugged earth
With the elements should have battled long?
Was the cradled thee from thy tender birth
Dost thou sooth her now with thy slumber song?

Yet thou dost not always so gently flow.
I have seen thy myriad ripples race
With the sun-beams turning them as they go
Into dazzling gems on the crystal face.

I have heard thy music of liquid notes
When the breezes played o'er thy surface bright.
Not the harmony of a Wagner floats
On the listening air with a sound more light.

I have seen thy flood like a torrent wild
With the mad, white foam on thy crested wave.
I have heard thy thundering waters piled
On the trembling shore where thy heroes ly rave.

Again, ice-bound thou wert lost to sight,
And thy voice was muffled in frozen snows,
All the bonds were burst with thy giant might,
And the angry strife to a tumult rose.

... thou best not like a limpid lake
That no pulsing wavelets may trouble more,
Thy peace rest on till the morning break,
And we too may dream on the drowsing shore.

A great event in religious circles in Bristol will be the 100th anniversary of the starting of the first Sunday school in Bristol, which will be celebrated in fitting fashion here on Sunday afternoon the 12th inst, when all the Protestant Sunday schools will unite in one big demonstration.

Rev. W. T. Johnston, of the Baptist church and Rev. E. W. Rushton, of the Methodist church, as a committee, have completed the details for the celebration and arranged the programme and secured as the chief speaker for the occasion Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh, superintendent of the public schools of Philadelphia.

The celebration will be held in the large auditorium of the Methodist church. The Sunday schools that will participate are the following: St. James Episcopal, the Methodist, the Presbyterian, First Baptist, St. Pauls Episcopal, German Lutheran, African Methodist, Second Baptist, Italian Presbyterian and Society of Friends.

THE PROGRAMME.

Dr. C. E. Burns will act as chairman and the programme will be as follows:

Responsive reading, 23rd Psalm.
Hymn, "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name."
Prayer, the Rev. William T. Johnston.
Historical Sketch, John C. Maule.
Hymn, "Blessed Assurance."
Address, Martin Brumbaugh, Ph. D., LL. D.
Hymn, "Rock of Ages."
Benediction.

THE FIRST SUNDAY SCHOOL.

The first Sunday school opened in Bristol was by maiden women, members of the Society of Friends, daughters of Phineas Buckley in 1811. The school was held in their father's house which stood on Radcliffe street, on the river bank near Penn street. In 1816 a union Sunday school was organized by Rev. Richard D. Hall, rector of St. James Episcopal church; John Adams, a local Methodist preacher: John McElway, Joseph King, Henry Tomlinsen and other members of St. James and Methodist churches and continued until 1822. The meetings were held in the old court house, which was located on Cedar street. The Methodist Sunday school was organized in 1822.

MEN'S MEETINGS BEGIN ON SUNDAY

President of Trenton Iron Co., and Active Business Man to be First Speaker.

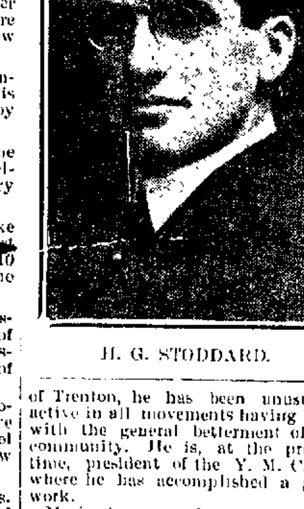

For the sixth season the men's meetings at the Bristol Baptist church will begin next Sunday afternoon at four o'clock.

The speaker will be H. G. Stoddard, president of the Trenton Iron Company, and recognized as one of the most active leaders in the business and civic life of Trenton.

Rev. Johnston has tried for several years to get Mr. Stoddard to Bristol to address the men's meetings but has not been successful until now.

The Trenton Times, in a recent issue in commenting upon Mr. Stoddard's career said:

Besides the remarkable business reputation Mr. Stoddard has made as head of the Trenton Iron Company and in the general business life of Trenton, he has been unusually active in all movements having to do with the general betterment of the community. He is, at the present time, president of the Y. M. C. A., where he has accomplished a great work.

He is also a member of the Board of Public Library Commissioners, to which he was only yesterday re-elected by the City Commission, a director in the Trenton Banking Company, the oldest banking institution in the city, and second oldest in the state; is a trustee of Peddie Institute, vice president and a director of the Mutual Building & Loan Association; a trustee in the First Baptist church, and has been an active spirit in the Chamber of Commerce, the Republican Club and the Trenton Country Club.

Mr. Stoddard has given very liberally of his time and rare ability to all the enterprises with which he has been affiliated. In fact no citizen of Trenton has worked more unselfishly for the common good."

Notorious Pick Pocket Captured.

Mingled in the crowd which gathered at the ferry slip on Tuesday night to take the boat for Burlington to attend the Hallowe'en celebration was a notorious light-fingered artist whose portrait adorns the rogue's gallery in a number of cities in the United States. He is now behind the bars in the jail at Doylestown, having been captured by Officer Sackville of the local police force.

On Tuesday night while watching things at the ferry wharf Sackville heard a man in the crowd yell out that he had been robbed of his pocketbook. The fellow did not break away quick enough and he was captured by the officer and taken up the hill to the police station, where he was searched. As is usually the case in such instances the fellow that "pinches" the purse passes it on to his confederate who is known as "the wire." This latter man was not captured.

After being locked up in the cell Sackville got out the file of the illustrated official police journal, containing the portraits of all the noted criminals in the country and found one that corresponded with the prisoner. The description said that Samuel Franks had an oval pit on the right elbow. The prisoner was examined and the distinguishing mark was easily observable.

The record stated that Franks had been arrested in Detroit in August 1909 and in Montreal the following month.

Franks was given a hearing before Squire Kraft and in default of $300 bail was taken to jail.

Too Much for Elizabeth.

Little Elizabeth and her mother were having luncheon together, and the mother, who always tried to impress facts upon her daughter, said:

"These little sardines, Elizabeth, are sometimes eaten by the larger fish."

Elizabeth gazed at the sardines in wonder and then asked:

"But, mother, how do the large fish get the cans open?"—Lippincott's.

LEG SEVERED BY TROLLEY CAR

Yesterday morning as William Stevens, of Tullytown, was driving a horse and open wagon along the pike in front of the Standard Cast Iron Pipe Foundry, the animal became frightened at an approaching trolley car and wheeled about and ran directly in front of the car.

Stephenson was thrown out of the vehicle and the wheels of the car ran over his left leg and completely severed the limb between the knee and ankle.

The man in terrible agony was placed in the car by Motorman Milton Stroup and Conductor Albert Morgan and brought to Dr. Fox's office in Bristol.

The physician made temporary dressings for the wounded parts and wrapped in heavy blankets on a stretcher he was conveyed to St. Francis hospital, Trenton, in Philip Winter's automobile.

The accident was apparently unavoidable as the horse suddenly took fright and without the least warning as to its action plunged in front of the trolley.

Stephenson has a wife in Tullytown and was employed as a laborer at the pipe foundry and was driving one of the company's teams at the time the accident occurred. Another workman was riding with him on the seat at the time and was also thrown out of the vehicle but escaped injury. The horse was not injured and the wagon was only slightly damaged.

Stevens recently moved to Tullytown and has a wife and family of children.

FOUR ARRESTED FOR STEALING TOOLS

Father and Two Sons Implicated in Robbery of Contractor Watson's Tool House at Edgely.

Four men—William Pyfer and his two sons, Wesley Pyfer and Joseph Oliver Pyfer, and John Hansen, of Philadelphia, were given a hearing before Justice of the Peace, Charles R. Nightingale, of Doylestown, Thursday afternoon, on the charge of stealing seven chests of tools from the tool house of Contractor Henry Watson, of Fallsington, at Edgely on July 10th. Hanson has confessed and implicates the father and his two sons.

By the confession of Hansen it was learned that the prisoners got into a boat at Eddington on the night in question and rowed to Edgely, where Contractor Watson was building some houses. Hansen says that he and the father of the other two broke into the tool house and took the chests of tools to the boat where they were taken charge of by the sons. Going down the river they took the tools from the chests and placed them in the boat, he says, and threw the chests overboard.

Hansen also confessed that they had stolen tools from a shop on the New Jersey side of the river a few nights before.

The story is borne out by the testimony of Detective Lestrange, of Philadelphia, who said that when Mr. Watson reported the theft he made an investigation and recovered some of the tools in pawn shops. Gaining a description of the men who had pawned them he was able to run down and arrest Hansen, and secured his confession implicating the others who were soon afterward captured.

They were later brought to Bucks county by Officer George Frawley, of Fallsington.

It is believed the men have been implicated in a number of other robberies.

They were held in default of $500 bail to await trial at the next term of court in November.

Woman Killed on Railroad.

Mrs. Carmela Ferrara, an Italian woman living at 327 Lincoln avenue, Bristol, aged 42 years, was run over and killed by an express train while walking on the Pennsylvania railroad track on Saturday morning at about 11.15 o'clock.

The woman was walking up the east bound freight track and stepped onto the eastbound express track when a freight train approached. An express train going at 60 miles an hour was approaching, but the woman was not aware of it. She was hit at the bridge over Adams Hollow creek and was hurled 40 feet. The engineer stopped his train and went back. A trainman was left with the body, which was mangled beyond recognition and the express proceeded on its way.

The woman leaves a husband, a married daughter and a son 16 years old. The funeral was held on Tuesday. Interment at St. Marks cemetery.

In Memoriam.

FREEMAN—In sad remembrance of my dear mother, Anna Eliza Freeman, who fell asleep in Jesus, Oct. 29th, 1906.

In memory we often think of one we loved so dear,
The vision grows so clear sometimes that we think she must be near us.
Hours of sadness still comes o'er us,
Silent tears of sorrow flow;
Memory keeps our loved one near us,
Though Heaven claimed her five years ago.

Stranger Stops Building and Leaves Town.

George T. Reed, who came to Bristol several weeks ago and leased a portion of the property of J. H. Vanzant on Mill street, and had workmen to tear down the old structure has departed for parts unknown, leaving some carpenters to whistle for their wages.

Reed was a mysterious individual and while superintending the erection of a new one-story building on the premises where the old structure was torn down he would give no intimation as to what line of business he was going to engage in. All the information he would volunteer was that it would "be different from anything else in Bristol."

He leased the property from Mr. Vanzant for two years and agreed to make all improvements. He secured John B. Speak, the contractor, who put a force of men at work. In a week's time the old building was torn down and a portion of the new one erected.

On Tuesday Reed stopped all work and left town on Wednesday morning and declared he would return in two weeks. As there are a number of unpaid bills it is not believed that Mr. Reed will return.

Welfare Society Organized.

The Public Welfare Society of Bristol met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Decker last Thursday evening and a plan of systematic work was outlined.

The president, Mrs. Peirce, sounded the keynote upon which success must be based when she declared the necessity for co-operation in the community.

"One aspect of the work," Mrs. Peirce said, "which hold out promise of splendid returns to the community is to be brought out by co-operation. It can be done only as we aid all the people in recognizing this essential point."

There were few discussions as to plans of action and methods of procedure.

WOMAN NEARLY DROWNED IN CANAL

While taking a short route to her home on Buckley street last Monday evening at about 6 o'clock, Mrs. Michael Larrissey, wife of the Fourth ward constable, fell into the canal at No. 3 lock, Bristol, and barely escaped drowning.

Mrs. Larrissey was crossing the narrow foot bridge at the lock when she made a misstep and fell in the lock which was occupied by a boat at the time which was in transit.

If it had not been that James Pursell, the lock-tender, was close at hand at the time and heard the noise caused by the woman's fall, Mrs. Larrissey would certainly have drowned. As it was when she was finally rescued she was in an unconscious condition.

At the time of the accident a loaded boat was in the lock on the way up the canal. The lower gates had been closed and the wickets in the upper gates were open to fill the lock. Pursell was on the easterly side of the canal with his back to the lower gates. He heard a sharp crack and went to the stern of the boat, thinking the rudder had been caught in the gates and was being broken. Examining the rudder he found it in good shape and was about to leave when he perceived something in the water close to the gate. It looked at first like an umbrella floating in the water. He took a rake that lay nearby and tried to draw it out; then he discovered that it was a woman. John Waters and Michael Downs were passing and ran to Pursell's assistance. The crew on the boat also went to the spot and all helped to draw the woman out.

Mrs. Larrissey, who was unconscious, was carried into Pursell's house where her clothing was loosened and she was wrapped in warm blankets. A physician was sent for and with his aid the woman was brought back to consciousness. She was placed on a settee and carried to her residence on Buckley street. She is reported as having fully recovered from the effects of the accident.

Heard on the Street.

There should be something done to stop that confounded racket at an unholy hour in the morning caused by the bells on the ice wagon teams. The loaded wagons make enough noise without adding the bells. It's a nuisance and should be stopped.—First Warder.

Of all the crowd that went over to Burlington and back on Hallowe'en I did not see a drunken man nor did I hear any profanity.—William E. Doron.

Pollock Goes to "The Press."

Leo A. Pollock, the ubiquitous reporter connected with the Daily Courier, has severed his connections with that paper and leaves Bristol today to take a position at the "copy desk" in the news rooms of the Philadelphia Press.

VOTE THE STRAIGHT KEYSTONE TICKET

One Mark Will be Counted as a Vote for All the County and Borough Candidates.

The ballot that will be used at the election next Tuesday will be a big sheet and in the Borough of Bristol, will contain the names of about seventy-five candidates. In the townships the number of candidates will be a little less.

The voter who starts to "cut" his ticket will have a job on his hands and unless he is particularly careful is liable to spoil the ballot and not accomplish the result which he attempted.

The safest and easiest way to vote for all the candidates at one time is to make one mark in the square opposite the party name in the first column at the left side of the ballot.

To avoid confusion and any possible errors the Keystone voters are particularly requested to mark a straight party ticket.

On the ballot, for some reason or other, the name of the Keystone party has been placed at the bottom of the column. The following is a fac simile of the party column. Mark the ticket as indicated below and the vote will be counted for all the Keystone candidates on the ticket. Take no chances of having the ballot thrown out by the election officers.

A mischievous boy threw a stone through a window of the M. E. church, Bridgewater. A little mischief may be over looked in a boy but malicious mischief should be pounished. This boy is fortunate to get off so easy this time but next time—well, let us hope there will be no next time. Boys should have reverence for the House of God.

VOTE RIGHT!

Stop! Look! Think! Listen! Election day will soon be here, and, Mr. Voter, if you are satisfied with our town and county government at present and in the past, then vote for the perpetual gang ticket.

If you are content with one-man rule; if you are satisfied with street and road building for which contracts have been given to political friends without competition in bids; if you approve of having our street corners thronged with idle men, with no orders to the police to prohibit the same; if you think it right for the gang to use their influence and have prisoners under sentence released from jail just prior to election to be used for political questionable purposes; if you think it right to bond our town to the limit for dinky sewers that will take no surface drainage, but leave with us still the stinking gutters which we have had for years; if you think you can still call this a free country when one man rules as a monarch—then vote the Gang ticket.

If you do not approve of any or all these things and you do honestly want a change and a better and more representative government in local offices, then show your manhood and vote the Keystone or Democratic ticket. Both tickets contain the names of the same candidates.

It requires one hundred and ninety years to grow a thirty-foot cedar pole for telegraph uses, but there are other poles which answer all purposes which are grown more quickly.

Mrs. Emma C. LaRue, wife of John H. LaRue, died after a two days' illness at her home in East Bristol township on Sunday morning at 4 o'clock, of strangulation of the bowels.

Mrs. LaRue's loss will be keenly felt by those who knew her and admired her for her unassuming faithfulness to every duty of home, church and neighborhood. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. O. J. Randall on Wednesday. Interment at the Bristol cemetery.
